

SAYS AMERICANS GIVE GREAT BRITAIN TOO MUCH

Senator Cummins, Attacking Repeal Bill, Declares Country Is Allowed More Than It Demands.

In an attack upon the Panama toll repeal bill, Senator Cummins of Iowa today declared that the President at the spectacle of Americans giving to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty a more favorable interpretation for Great Britain than Great Britain itself demanded. He denounced this attitude as unusual and unprecedented. He praised Great Britain as a great nation, to be admired for asserting and defending that interpretation of the treaty helpful to its commerce, but expressed regret that "some" Americans were not equally zealous of their country's welfare.

Senator Cummins proceeded to analyze Great Britain's protest. He said Great Britain, through Charles Innes, had stated exemption of coastwise vessels would not be objectionable if the regulations were so drawn as to limit the exemption to coastwise commerce. As the regulations defining coastwise commerce had not been drawn, Senator Cummins insisted there was nothing to which Great Britain could object.

Strong Arrangement.

Senator Vardaman's address in the Senate yesterday afternoon was the strongest arraignment of the President and other democrats who have abandoned the "free trade" policy of the Republican platform that has yet been delivered in the Senate. He referred to one of the President's speeches in which he said the democratic platform was "not molasses to catch flies with."

"I trust," he added, "that it will not be out of place for me to suggest that it be the duty of the President to make plain that the interests of the American people are not to be caught by somebody else's molasses."

Severely Criticizes Root.

The Mississippi senator was severe in his criticism of Senator Root, whose speech in January, 1913, he said, reopened the toll exemption question.

"It strikes me," he said, "that the democratic party has fallen upon evil times, its poverty of leadership has become pathetic, when it has to rely upon the distinguished senator from New York (Mr. Root), that astute, resourceful, untiring lawyer whose professional career is distinguished by his successful defense of predatory interests and the malefactors of great wealth, this erudite, radical exponent of the Hamiltonian theory of government."

Bryan and Root Team.

"Think of Bryan and Root pulling together shoulder to shoulder for the moral and mental uplift of the American people and the salvation of our national honor."

"Does any senator imagine that the reputation of platform promises will be overlooked and forgotten by the people, because the distinguished senator from New York tells us it's the right thing to do? Will the Congress of the appeal of the distinguished senator so away the public mind that they will forget the exhortation which Secretary Bryan gave to the violators of platform promises in his memorable address to the Pennsylvania legislature May 13, 1912?"

FEARS POWER OF I. C. C.

Vice President of Erie Opposes Pending Anti-Trust Bill.

"In this bill the interstate commerce commission practically is given the powers of general managers and of the boards of directors of all the railroads of the country," said George F. Brownell, vice president of the Erie, testifying today before the Senate interstate commerce committee on proposed anti-trust legislation which affects railroads.

"Under this bill," continued Mr. Brownell, "the commission would have the powers without the responsibilities, leaving the owners with the responsibility and without powers. It would lead to an interlocking directorate more vast than has been suggested as existing today."

Mr. Brownell did not oppose the principle of government supervision of security as such, but argued that the bill would give the interstate commerce commission too great powers.

The Wood Newspaper Machinery Corporation, with a capital stock of $4,750,000, has been granted a charter at Richmond. It is empowered to acquire 100,000 acres of land and to manufacture and repair typesetting machinery and printing presses.

Stricken with paralysis Tuesday as he lay in bed, Jacob H. Griffin, sixty-three years old, a retired Baltimore man, died recently. Apparently in good health, Mr. Griffin retired Tuesday evening at his usual hour.

The new coats are perfect gems. They show style ideas that are distinctive and exclusive. Ideal for mountain, seaside or motor-ing.

Cape coats in solid navy blue, black and white, as well as checks, plaids and English mixtures.

$10 to $25

Women's Suits, worth up to $19.75. $5

Just 35 wool suits in this lot. Quality garments and smart looking.

Waists at 98c

$2 Pure Handkerchief Linen Waists, in white, pink and blue.

MILTON R. NEY'S, 807 Pa. Avenue N.W.

HEROISM RECALLED AS TRIBUTE IS PAID CONFEDERATE DEAD

(Continued from Second Page.)

war. To preserve that Constitution these soldiers in gray, here at our feet, died; to preserve it these men in blue over there died. There has been more blood shed, and more treasure expended, for that instrument, than for any and all the charters of government in 125 years ago. There have been but six amendments to it, and three of those were introduced by the Union. It is to be perpetual. We unveil today a tribute to it. But today there are no more of those monuments in the Capitol, over seventy propositions to amend that old Constitution—seventy efforts to modify or destroy it. From their working out their monuments of life, liberty or property which have stood guard over the American people while they fought, floating not in jeering triumph but in loving protection."

Eulogizes the Dead.

In accepting the monument from Col. Herbert and in turn conveying it to the President of the nation, Mrs. Stevens emotionally eulogized the Confederate dead "asleep within the shadow of the home of Lee. In sight of the dome of the Capitol of our country, above them lay their faithful, floating not in jeering triumph but in loving protection."

She said in part: "As President General United Daughters of the Confederacy I would express for our organization the deep gratitude to the Arlington Confederate Monument Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the untiring efforts in harmonious love to give for the nation this exquisitely magnificent monument, wrought by our own, the south's greatest sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel."

"Col. Herbert, in receiving this monument from your hands I am not unmindful of the labor of love that has been yours, and must needs breathe the prayer to the great God that the sunset rays of the evening of life have lengthened out your blessed days that you may praise with us."

Seven Years of Toll.

"Today marks the completion of our seven years of patriotic toll. Ours is the rapture born of doing a duty of hope deferred but not laid aside by time."

"We of the south are willing to be judged by the honors we accord today. 'Strange as it may seem, the great mass of soldiers in both armies of the war have been distinguished by the same ideals. Thus our war presents the unique spectacle of men fighting in opposite ranks for ideals with like courage and persistence."

"As they fought for the same ideals, as they each displayed courage, as they won immortality of fame, is it not well that their dust is laid side by side under the same flag? Is it not well that today their sons and grandsons are wearing the same uniform, fighting for their fathers' form of government and their ideals? Is it not well that the representatives of the survivors of both armies are with us here today? Is it not well that there should be a White House a President, southern by birth and breeding and northern by color of residence and training?"

"And now, Mr. President, we surrender this monument into your keeping, and through you to that of the nation."

"Yours, Mr. President, was Jefferson's motto when at Mobile you said the United States had no interest in Mexico or any other foreign lands except to see that the citizens enjoyed the right to the pursuit of happiness under a constitutional and just government. As long as the government shall rest in your hands and hands like yours, we feel sure American institutions will not pass from the earth, and that this monument will be not only a memorial of the past, but a symbol of the present and future."

CONFEDERATE CROSSES AWARDED SIX VETERANS

Mark for Valor Features Jefferson Davis' Birthday Exercises.

Six Confederate veterans are proudly wearing today the honor of being conferred upon them last night at the observance in the New Willard Hotel of the anniversary of Jefferson Davis' birthday. More than 500 veterans who fought on both sides during the war and many members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy were in attendance.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi and Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president general of the will prevent the little illness of today from becoming the big sickness of tomorrow and after. For troubles of the digestive organs you can rely on

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c, 25c.

The new coats are perfect gems. They show style ideas that are distinctive and exclusive. Ideal for mountain, seaside or motor-ing.

Cape coats in solid navy blue, black and white, as well as checks, plaids and English mixtures.

$10 to $25

Women's Suits, worth up to $19.75. $5

Just 35 wool suits in this lot. Quality garments and smart looking.

Waists at 98c

$2 Pure Handkerchief Linen Waists, in white, pink and blue.

MILTON R. NEY'S, 807 Pa. Avenue N.W.

SENATE ENDS SESSION.

Adjourns That Lawmakers May Attend Confederate Exercises.

In order that members of the Senate might be able to attend the unveiling of the memorial to the Confederate dead at Arlington this afternoon, the Senate adjourned a little before 2:30 o'clock. Senator Kern, democratic leader, made the motion to adjourn, saying that a number of Senators on both sides of the chamber had expressed a desire to attend the ceremonies at Arlington.

The Confederate Monument.

At this Westminster Abbey. From rise to set of sun. Blue and gray with fragrant flowers. Shall plant through Arlington. And on the graves of heroes. Shall march sweet roses bright. To gladden in the sunshine. With weeping dew of night. I bear their spirits sleeping. In bosoms above. And when the dawn comes. Where everlasting love. As perfume from sweet flowers. Shall evermore increase. And shall angels linger. In pure celestial peace.

GUESTS OF COL. HERBERT.

Luncheon for Those Taking Part in Monument Exercises.

Col. Hilary A. Herbert entertained more than fifty of those taking prominent part in the Confederate memorial exercises in his home, 1612 21st street northwest, today. Luncheon was served at noon by Col. Herbert's daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Micou. The guests included Sir Moses Ezekiel, the speakers at the unveiling services—Gen. Bennett Young, Gen. G. Washington Gardner, Col. Robert E. Lee, Dr. Randolph M. McKim, Rev. Dr. R. B. Hild, Miss De Bossia, god-daughter of Sir Moses Ezekiel; Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president general of the U. D. C.; the ex-presidents general of the U. D. C., officers of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, the executive committee, the advisory board, directors of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association of each state and the house guests.

TRY TO ADJOURN HOUSE.

Southerners Want to Attend Confederate Monument Unveiling.

Southerners in the House of Representatives late this afternoon started an effort to force the House to adjourn and allow the members to attend the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Arlington. Administration leaders were anxious to get the Rayburn railway bill under way and finish general debate on it by 6 o'clock, and did not take kindly to the suggestion of Representative Decker of Missouri, who asked unanimous consent that the House should adjourn for the Confederate veteran exercises.

Representative Rayburn of Texas, author of the bill under discussion, made an objection. "I make a point of no quorum," he declared. "I would not leave to attend the unveiling they would conduct a filibuster and would spoil the plans of the democratic leaders who want to rush the anti-trust bills through this week."

BRYAN TO AID RECEPTION.

To Be Joint Host With Daughters of the Confederacy.

Secretary Bryan tonight will stand with the United Daughters of the Confederacy as joint host in welcoming their guests of honor at the Confederate memorial exercises in a reception in the Pan-American building at 9 o'clock.

The reception has been arranged to give those particularly interested in the memorial an opportunity to meet those who have done the most to erect the Confederate monument. They include Sir Moses Ezekiel, Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, and the late George Henderson, Mrs. Jennie Faulkner McCherry and Mrs. Alexander B. White.

Apotheosis.

Honor those who fought and died. All the known and unknown dead. For the cause which lost on earth. But achieved a higher birth.

From the sorrow and the loss. Purified of earthly dross; Wearing Truth's immortal crown. Borne with honor and renown; Like a beacon's glowing light. Shining o'er the starry height.

Soars the Southern Cross, our sign. Pointing to the Light Divine. LILIAN PIKE ROOMER.

Handicapped.

The creaking sound continued. Finally, information being vexed there, at left his task to stop it. "The same old story," he cried, despairingly. "Prejudice trying to tight-lace Originality."

Chinese Troops Are Trying to Wipe Out Band of Brigands.

PEKING, China, June 4.—"White Wolf," the Chinese brigand who during the past few months has devastated the provinces of Hu Pei, Ho Nan and Shen Si, has been looting and burning towns and villages in the province of Kan Su. Yesterday he set fire to the town of Ningchow, and his followers today burned Tao Chow, in the extreme south of the province. Subsequently a column of regular troops overtook and defeated the bandits, who fled to the ravines of Lily mountain, 100 miles south of Lanchow, where they are reported surrounded by troops.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

OLD SPANISH SWINDLE IS TREATED AS A JOKE

Washington Merchants Who Are Offered Fortunes Fail to Take Bait.

Several attempts have been made recently by persons in Madrid, Spain, to victimize local merchants by a swindling scheme, which has been worked in this country for a number of years. Harry Horowitz, 631 F street northwest, and Bernard Hariton of 811 9th street northwest, are two persons who receive attention from the swindlers.

The Confederate Monument.

At this Westminster Abbey. From rise to set of sun. Blue and gray with fragrant flowers. Shall plant through Arlington. And on the graves of heroes. Shall march sweet roses bright. To gladden in the sunshine. With weeping dew of night. I bear their spirits sleeping. In bosoms above. And when the dawn comes. Where everlasting love. As perfume from sweet flowers. Shall evermore increase. And shall angels linger. In pure celestial peace.

GUESTS OF COL. HERBERT.

Luncheon for Those Taking Part in Monument Exercises. Col. Hilary A. Herbert entertained more than fifty of those taking prominent part in the Confederate memorial exercises in his home, 1612 21st street northwest, today. Luncheon was served at noon by Col. Herbert's daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Micou. The guests included Sir Moses Ezekiel, the speakers at the unveiling services—Gen. Bennett Young, Gen. G. Washington Gardner, Col. Robert E. Lee, Dr. Randolph M. McKim, Rev. Dr. R. B. Hild, Miss De Bossia, god-daughter of Sir Moses Ezekiel; Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, president general of the U. D. C.; the ex-presidents general of the U. D. C., officers of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, the executive committee, the advisory board, directors of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association of each state and the house guests.

TRY TO ADJOURN HOUSE.

Southerners Want to Attend Confederate Monument Unveiling.

Southerners in the House of Representatives late this afternoon started an effort to force the House to adjourn and allow the members to attend the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Arlington. Administration leaders were anxious to get the Rayburn railway bill under way and finish general debate on it by 6 o'clock, and did not take kindly to the suggestion of Representative Decker of Missouri, who asked unanimous consent that the House should adjourn for the Confederate veteran exercises.

BRYAN TO AID RECEPTION.

To Be Joint Host With Daughters of the Confederacy.

Secretary Bryan tonight will stand with the United Daughters of the Confederacy as joint host in welcoming their guests of honor at the Confederate memorial exercises in a reception in the Pan-American building at 9 o'clock.

Apotheosis.

Honor those who fought and died. All the known and unknown dead. For the cause which lost on earth. But achieved a higher birth. From the sorrow and the loss. Purified of earthly dross; Wearing Truth's immortal crown. Borne with honor and renown; Like a beacon's glowing light. Shining o'er the starry height.

Handicapped.

The creaking sound continued. Finally, information being vexed there, at left his task to stop it. "The same old story," he cried, despairingly. "Prejudice trying to tight-lace Originality."

Chinese Troops Are Trying to Wipe Out Band of Brigands.

PEKING, China, June 4.—"White Wolf," the Chinese brigand who during the past few months has devastated the provinces of Hu Pei, Ho Nan and Shen Si, has been looting and burning towns and villages in the province of Kan Su. Yesterday he set fire to the town of Ningchow, and his followers today burned Tao Chow, in the extreme south of the province. Subsequently a column of regular troops overtook and defeated the bandits, who fled to the ravines of Lily mountain, 100 miles south of Lanchow, where they are reported surrounded by troops.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.

Those who received crosses included Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of the Confederate memorial. The others were James C. Lee, 1st Maryland Artillery; J. J. Lockyer, Virginia Artillery; Albert L. McAllister, 5th Virginia Infantry; Jacob A. Norton, 2d Mississippi Infantry; Mrs. C. P. Hancock, daughter of Augustus Durphy, Company C, 12th Virginia Infantry; received a special descendant's cross. An ovation was given the Children of the Confederacy who marched into the red room singing a chorus. They were under the direction of Mrs. E. C. R. Humphries. Gen. Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. veterans, was one of the specially invited guests, and many former Union soldiers were present.

DAUGHTERS, WERE THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS.